Activity picked up this week on the Zagreb Stock Exchange, following the previous week record low liquidity. Volume this week totaled 149 million Kuna, as compared to 68.1 million Kuna the previous week. The CROBEX Index surpassed the 2,000 point level to reach 2,038 points, a weekly gain of 3.80%.

The most liquid stock on the market was Hrvatski telekom with over 23.5 million Kuna. The stock price remained relatively flat, achieving a gain of 0.38% to 228.55 Kuna. Following HT was the shipping transport company Atlantska plovidba, which traded a total of 18.3 million Kuna. The stock posted a weekly gain of 2.25% to 1,149 Kuna, despite the negative trend of the Baltic Dry Index (BDI). The BDI continued to trend negatively, declining by 4.3% this week. The rest of the shipping sector also had a good performance this week with Jadroplov gaining 2.67%, while Tankerska and Uljanik plovidba gained 5.6% and 6.1% respectively. Rounding off the top three in terms of turnover was Končar elektroindustrija, which traded a total 15.1 million Kuna. Of the 15 million Kuna, 9 million Kuna reflected a sell by one of the top ten shareholders in the company. Končar ended up 7.88% for the week to 397.92 Kuna.

The construction sector posted a strong performance this week with Dalekovod achieving a gain of 7.3% on volume of 12.9 million Kuna. Ingra and IGH had an even better performance gaining 9.8% and 9.6% respectively. Without a doubt, the best performer in the sector was Hidroelektra niskogradnja which posted a whopping gain of 26.9% on volume of 2.1 million Kuna.

In the confectionery sector, the sugar refinery company Viro gained 13.7% on volume of 12 million Kuna. The gain in the stock price probably reflected the recent record prices for raw sugar on the world market. Due to the higher demand for sugar and lower supplies, sugar prices have been reaching record levels.

One of the losing stocks of the week was the hotel group HUP Zagreb, whose stock price decreased by 6.2% to 1,575 Kuna.
